

Concept Development

Narrative Game Concept

A dark fantasy action game centered around two brothers seeking revenge after witnessing the brutal murder of their parents. After the tragedy, the younger brother grows up idolizing his older brother, who becomes his protector and mentor in a violent world filled with supernatural forces, corruption, and forbidden powers.

Together, they train to unlock their hidden “Ki” abilities in order to survive and uncover the truth behind their family’s past. As the journey continues, the younger brother begins noticing disturbing inconsistencies in the memories of that night. The older brother becomes increasingly consumed by rage, revenge, and an obsession with power.

Throughout the story, the player is forced to question what is real. The game explores themes of trauma, manipulation, morality, and identity through psychological conflict and emotional storytelling.

At the end of the game the younger brother discovers that the memories surrounding their parents’ death were never entirely truthful. The older brother had secretly made a pact with a demonic force years ago in exchange for power, believing it would protect their family. Instead, the deal corrupted him and ultimately led to the destruction of their home.

The biggest revelation comes when the player discovers that the older brother himself was responsible for the deaths of their parents during a moment of possession and loss of control, a truth he buried deep within his own mind.

Character sketches

Main character

brother

side character

Moodboard

